Japan's Reassuring Reply To Mikovan It is more than a little reassuring to learn that Japan has been admirably blunt in rejecting Anastas Mikoyan's insulting demand for removal of United States military bases from Japanese territory.

The exchange occurred just over a year after Japan was forced to cancel the state visit of President Eisenhower because of Red-led moting against the new peace treaty which perpetuated the existence of the bases. It is reassuring for several reasons.

ONE IS that it confirms the judgment of many experts who maintained at the time of the riots that they did not represent the thinking of a majority of the Japanese

Another is that it illustrates that every erisis in world affairs need not signify a setback for United States interests, but that some crises may be only temporary steamventings from which a stronger U.S. post-

Still another is that it shows there are countries outside Europe which are willing to admit in public that their interests and security are better served by alliance with the United States than by playing footsie with Moscow or claiming to live in a dream o world of "neutralism." But the main reason Japan's reply is reassuring is that its bluntness and brevity were ideally suited to the overbearing character of Mikoyan's ludicrous threat.

THE IMPLICATION that Japan would be safer in event of war if it had no U.S. bases on its territory was an insult to the intelligence of Japanese officials.

The presumption that Mikoyan has a right to dictate to the Japanese what their foreign policy should be was an insult to the sovereignty of Japan's governmen Mikoyan's theme was typical of the Communist approach to diplomacy-just plain approach because it does not always meet with the refuff it got in Tokyo. Too many fuzzy-minded governments apparently fail to see through the thinly veiled pomposity of Moscow's propaganda.

The propaganda sometimes accomplishes its purpose, not because it is brilliantly conceived but because it is stupidly received. It is reassuring that Japan has been smart enough to realize that,

New Setbacks For Jimmy Hoffa

Some recent events make it possible to breathe a little easier in the face of Teamster President James R. Hoffa's repeated implications of seeking to take over the labor movement, take over the economy. take over organized politics and ultimately take over the country

A federal court has ruled that the Department of Labor has the right to check up on whether financial reports filed by certain Teamster locals jibe with their ac count books. This may be followed by a similar ruling in another case which would apply to the entire international union.

More significant, four Cincinnati locals, representing 4,000 drivers in different industries, have decided to pull out of the Teamsters organization and seek affiliations within the AFL-CIO framework. Two of the locals already have been welcomed by another unuon.

Following as they do the recent decision of Chicago's cab drivers to dethrone a Hoffa-backed local president in favor of an anti-Hoffa "rebel." the Cincinnati defections show that Hoffa does not enjoy the solid rank-and-file support he claims and his wellorganized conventions indicate.

This is encouraging because it looked for quite a time as if James R. Hoffs could not be deterred, let alone beaten. His battery of skillful lawvers has had excellent tor board finally collapsed. The Teamster election machinery was so well oiled that there appeared to be no dissenters within

Yet it did not seem possible that every one of the Teamsters' 11/2 million members could support Hoffa and his policies.

They do not, and just enough of them have managed to take effective action to disassociate themselves from Hoffa rule that it's possible a trend may be in the making

In view of the fact that total Teamster membership declined between 1957 and 1960. the new developments justify hopes that Jimmy Hoffa may not be able to bring the country under his thumb, after all.

Not Just Gloom

The Good Samarnian gesture of Kansas residents in aiding a Lisbon family stranded after a traffic crash and the call for additional pottery workers at the Homer Laughlin China Co. prove that all the current news is not doom and gloom.

There, naturally, is great concern for the outcome of the crisis in Germany, for the sought, fate of freedom throughout the world, and far personal problems. But it is also fair time, get-ready-for-school time and Labor Duv-is-near time. In life, as train corridors were $15 letters, all in the newspapers, there is always room for specially addressed, all ready for a little smale and word of better things for mailing from inside the German

Untimely Solution To A Problem

The State of Ohio undoubtedly has a problem in overcrowded conditions and its penal institutions.

There is nothing new about this. They have been overcrowded for the most part for years. Some day the state will have to do something about it.

But if Gov. DiSalle goes through with his threat to institute quotas for the juvenile institutions in a week of 10 days, his action will be unnecessarily precipitate.

The governor has been concerned about situations like the Lancaster Boys Industrial School, where he says sometimes 1,000 boys have been housed in quarters designed for 500 and cared for by a staff large enough for 350, and the Delaware Girls Industrial School, where he reports 300 often are housed in quarters for 200.

THE GOVERNOR obviously is making his threat of county quotas in order to dramatize the situation among Objo's juvenile judges as well as the public to pressure the General Assembly into appropriating more money at its November session.

a sudden cutoff in services of the juvenile institutions would not be serving either the wayward juveniles or the public properly. Many juvenile judges have called attention to the seriousness of such a move.

Perhaps he cannot be blamed for dramatizing the need which he feels exists, but

THEY POENT OUT that they recognize the state's problem of inadequate space and lack of proper staffing at Lancaster and Delaware and would like to see some way for the state to retain wayward juveniles aimed at toppling it by subvertlonger if that can belo rehabilitate them.

But they point out, too, that most countries cannot take care of the youngsters they must attempt to rehabilitate.

The judges do not dare permit dangerous juveniles to remain in society. They already take chances in some cases to their later regret. The public simply must be protected from incorrigible criminals.

The situation needs further thought on the part of legislators and judges as well as the governor. Precipitate action, without adequate prior warning is not the solution.

Scientific tests have been made to see if baseballs in Babe Ruth's time were as lively as today's. Little if way difference was shown by research and a consultant corporation, which dissected baseballs of 1927 and the current supply, except that stitches by women workers were flatter, making it harder for pitchers to grip ball.

Tests indicated that today, buriers are lighter, due to the fact they concentrated too much on income from TV commercials for various products, and lacked bounce because they worried too much over what inning they would be taken out and whether they would be released during the game

Tests were made by stop watch of pitchers coming to the mound on foot and by autoor cart. It showed those who came by auto or eart went farther and lasted longer because they had less time to worry before pitching the first ball.

Soviet operatives never got those letters for mailing. Neither, therefore, did the $15 contacts whom the Sovone authorities were attempting to subvert. The letters had copies of Edition No. 12 of the East Zone document called "Webrpolitik" which is brutally anti-West, especially against the United States.

THIS RAID on the interponal train is one of hundreds of such operations against the intricate and massive Soviet operation inside the German Republic ing thousands of secondary and lower echelon officials.

These swift raids are not as melodramatic as the counter offensive over in Berlin. There the Soviets draw the world spot light not only because of N. S. Khrushchev's great squeeze but because the Communist techniques are as subtle as a brass band's bass drum

HE DISAPPEARED on June 17 in East Berlin, to which he had gone from our mone on routine

Brandt, who was a victim of the Nans but survived, lived in the West Zone after he escaped from the Sovione back in 1958. We know that the Communist secret police have him.

Of course, the Heinz Brandt incident excites the melodramatic instincts of us newsmen more than the more subtle Sostet attacks. But tragic though it is, it does not have the impact of the internal propaganda and subversion attack which has been overlooked by the world.

Coast Guard officers - along with immigration, customs and health officials-boarded the vessel in rough seas Thursday night. At least three Coast Guard boats approached the ship, and one put aboard a party.

A 40-foot patrol boat later returned to the nearby Little Creek boat station after standing by the Cuban vessel for several hours, but her crew refused to discuss the situation.

In Washington, the State Department declined comment beyond acknowledging receipt of a Coast Guard message of the ship's arrival.

As a customary diplomatic move, the department is expected to notify the Castro government of the ship's arrival. This would be done through the Swiss government, which represents the United States in Cuba.

Crash Hurts Newell Man

A Newell motorist was injured slightly in a crash in fug today at 8:15 on State Route 2 near Pughtown, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

The mishap involved a 1956 model three-quarter-ton pickup truck operated by Harry DeLong, 35, of Jefferson St., Newell, and a 1961 model Rambler driven by Gladys Mae Swift, 52, of Zanesville.

Deputies said DeLong was driving south when he entered heavy fog and swerved suddenly to avoid striking the woman's auto in the rear. DeLong passed the Zanesville woman on the right side, went up an embankment, and overturned on the highway. about 100 yards north of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission.

He sustained a slight laceration of the head and was treated by a physician. The woman escaped

'M-Boys' Put Show On Road As Yanks Hike Lead To 4

Beat Chisox Again; Tigers Tamed 3 To 1

Associated Press Sports Writer Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle put the show on the road tonight as the New York Yankees, their race for the American League pennant strictly a side attraction, open a 13-game tour with the first of four games at Cleveland against the Indians.

Maris, with 13 to go to break Babe Ruth's 60 home run record, has belted four of his five homers off Indians pitching at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. Mantle, trailing Maris by three home runs with his total of 45, has tagged the Cleveland staff for just one homer so far. He socked it in the Injuns' park off Jim Grant, the right-hander who opposes Yankee Jim Coates in tonight's

For the record, Maris is 14 games ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927. He has hit nine home runs in the four parks the *Yankees will visit on this trip-Cleveland, 4; Los Angeles, 1; Kansas City, 3, and Minnesota, 1. Mantle has collected seven in the same parks-Cleveland, 1; Los Angeles, 2; Kansas City, 2, and Minnesota, 2.

Neither managed to add to his total Thursday as the Yankees ended a home stand with a 5-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox. That gave them a four-game bulge again over Detroit when the second place Tigers lost their second in a row to Baltimore, 3-1.

Cleveland beat Boston 4-3 in 14 innings and Washington defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-3 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Mr. Don Astor, Mgr. Albee Tri State Homes Hickory, Pa.

Dear Mr. Astor:

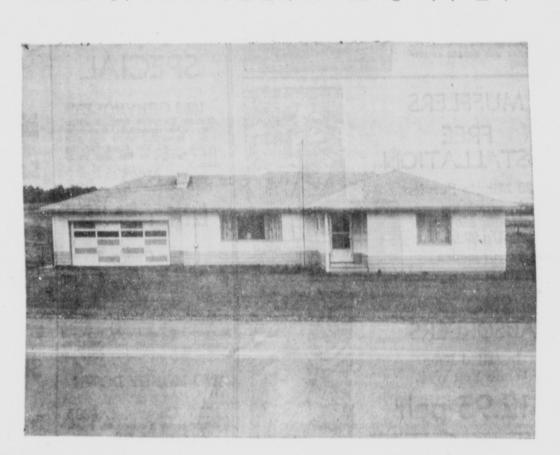

My wife and I would like to extend this letter to let you know how well pleased we are with our Albee Home.

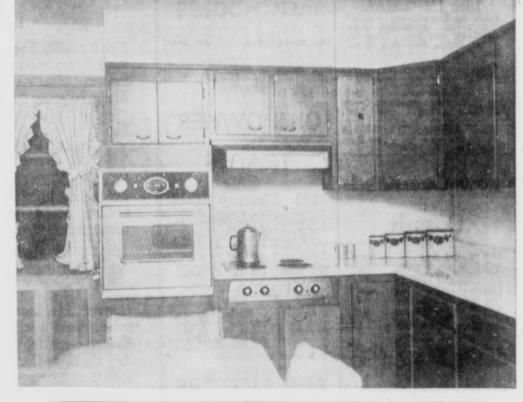

We are very happy with the wonderful material which has been used in our home, but more than anything else we are thrilled with the finished product.

Your Owner-Contractor Method has saved us thousands of dollars and made it possible for us to own this lovely home.

We wish to extend an open invitation to the public to come see our fine home, so that those of you who are thinking of buying or building may have the same opportunity we have enjoyed.

Sincerely Mr. Richard Grodhaus
